

About Us

Ever organised an event??

and..... not had all the people you wanted at the event?

Then you find out that there was a similar event 5 miles away....

Well we thought about it.....

and.... I can now welcome you to Dates-That-Clash

The website that makes sure your Event Doesn't Clash!

Check that your event doesn't clash , Sell Tickets for your event online , Print Custom Merchandise.

Events and Searches are free - so what's in it for you?

Thats a good point actually we don't make any money from the site itself, its free for everyone and it will always be. We do have advertising on the site however this only pays for a little of the upkeep, its a service that the owner feels passionate about.

Who's behind it?

Dates-That-Clash has been created solely by Will Fealey. He plans to have 50,000 events by February 2008. Overhearing a conversation within the local drinking hole, gave the idea. The design was developed and is always being fine tuned by Will who is also behind the Event Photography company Elms Solutions Ltd as well as Discofealey Web Design.

The idea, imagine your an event organiser, you have an event coming up, you pay hundreds of pounds to produce the event. You then find out that the same day, 5 miles away there is a similar event that have more interesting people going and your event is going to go down the pan. You should of Dates-That-Clashed it! Make sure your event doesn't clash at Dates-That-Clash.

We just ask that you let your contacts know of the service. If you want to make your entry stand out more and link to your own website you are welcome to and be sure to submit your link to the Links Section.
